January 8, 1918.

Within a few days we will send to the printer a guide book of the City to be published monthly and given to the soldiers, sailors and marines encamped in and around the District of Columbia.

This book will contain information concerning approved recreation places both public and commercial, a map showing the public buildings and places of interest in the City, and a list of institutions granting special concessions or offering recreational or educational privileges to men in uniform.

If there are any suggestions which you might care to make as to the composition or contents of the guide book, I would appreciate it if you would let me hear from you at your earliest convenience.

Harold Keats

Executive Secretary.
